EMPOWERING THE NEXT GENERATION

Around the world, many children and young people do not have the knowledge and skills to participate in and contribute to their societies. Aflatoun International offers social and financial education to millions of children and young people worldwide, empowering them to make a change for a sustainable future.

SOCIAL AND FINANCIAL EDUCATION: FIVE CORE ELEMENTS

Personal Understanding and Exploration

Rights and Responsibilities

Saving and Spending

Planning and Budgeting

Social and Financial Enterprise

WHAT WE DO

Aflatoun International creates high-quality curricula, for different age groups, which are contextualised and implemented by local partners. In addition, educators are provided with training to teach the Aflatoun child-centred active-learning method, boosting life skills and financial education through five core elements. The organisation also conducts research projects to validate the impact, effectiveness and quality of its programmes.

AFLA TOT

3-6 years old - Offering helpful learning experiences during early childhood, which lay the foundations for children to reach their full potential.

AFLATOUN

6-14 years old - Building on a child's natural curiosity and teaching them about their rights, saving and starting enterprises. For those without access to schools and other disadvantaged children, Aflatoun Non-Formal Education has been developed.

AFLATEEN

15-19 years old - Stimulating young people to question their identity, learn about money and the economy, which prepares them for a complex and turbulent job market. Our eLearning Platform Aflateen Digital complements this programme.

AFLAYOUTH

16-24 years old - Aiming to help individuals understand their goals in the labour market and make informed choices about their options in education, jobs, and entrepreneurship.

HOW WE DO IT

Aflatoun's programmes are implemented by partners worldwide through an innovative social franchise model. This dynamic, bottom-up network of interlinked partner organisations is based on reciprocal empowerment, supported by Aflatoun International.

This is a high-impact, low-cost model (€0.33 per child) which accelerates scale-up of Aflatoun's programmes, through intergration into national curricula and increasing the number of local partners reaching vulnerable children and young people.

WHY WE DO IT

More children go to school than ever before. Besides learning how to read and write, they need to become economic citizens and be equipped with 21st-century skills to thrive in an increasingly complex world. Therefore, Aflatoun International wants to ensure that all children and young people have access to social and financial education, empowering them to make a positive change for a more equitable world.

Grounded in the United Nations' Convention on the Rights of the Child and building on its strong network, Aflatoun International has an important role to play in fulfilling the Sustainable Development Goals. Aflatoun's life skills and economic empowerment programmes are directly contributing to the advancement of 6 out of the total 17 SDGs, and indirectly to the majority. Long-lasting and sustainable solutions will only be realised if children and young people are fully equipped with the tools needed to engage with the challenges of the future.

AFLATOUN SUCCESS STORIES

EDUCATION FOR PEACE

10,000 children in Syria and 20,000 in neighbouring Lebanon received Aflatoun's education coupled with peacebuilding to enhance social and economic skills to rebuild their broken communities and promote peace.

"I dropped my weapon and quit the forces to follow Aflatoun classes" - Hamada

TRADITIONAL TAJIK FASHION

Gulnoza realised she could fund her college education by setting up her own sewing business manufacturing traditional Tajik garments. She has since taught other girls how to sew and they have also started their small fashion enterprises.

"Thanks to Aflatoun, I am now a college student, school teacher and business girl" - Gulnoza
